

Saturday Sampler 2024

Message from Carrie – Feb. 24

Hi Saturday Sampler Friends!

Happy February! This year is zooming by and I am really excited for February to be here. Thank you to all of you that visited us for Local Quilt Shop Day. It was a fun day in the store and we appreciate your support so much. We have our Truckload Sale that started Friday with flat folds on sale along with a ton of other things! Check out our ad here

Today, Saturday, February 3rd, we are celebrating Janet Osborn Day. Janet has been such a big part of the Monroe community and the reason we have a quilting community here. She is the reason I do what I do and I will always be so grateful for her teaching and support. She created a space that we can all come together regardless of ability and share our love of fabric, support each other and feel at home. She will be in the store today from 11:30-2:30 to chat and share her latest project. Stop by and say hi. I know she would love to see you.

Let's talk about the quilts this week. Bridle Path friends, we are doing the same blocks as last month, just different colors. We are going to be experts by the time this quilt is done! Urban Owls friends, we are working on the flying geese borders with appliqué cornerstones. They are fun but take some color thought. I go into details of my color struggle in the tutorial. Let's just say that this morning (Thursday) I decided to totally change my flying geese plan...Ugh!

Are you participating in our UFO challenge? Our February number is 4. The challenge to work on for this month is Rainy Day Project- work on something you have been saving for a Rainy Day and bring it in or tell us about it at the March meeting.

Have you voted for our Shop Hop fabric donation quilts yet? Voting ends next week and the quilts will all be donated to Children's Hospital. We had a great turn out and I am so happy to be able to pass on these wonderful quilts. Thank you to all that donated.

Love ya,

Carrie
